This very nice villa on the countryside Costa Blanca South, is completely ready to be built. All permits are already in, we can start right away. On average it takes around 7 to 9 months before the villa is completely finished. You can still choose the finishing touches. Request a viewing of the location so you can get a good idea of where it will be built. It is also possible to discuss things with the architect so that this villa will be completely to your taste.
